

October Newsletter

Hello Providers!

It is officially fall! You all have made it a month, give or take, into this new school year that challenges every previous pattern or routine you may have created for yourself to best support youth. You may have worked to adapt into online and virtual systems in order to connect with youth, and surely experienced a technical malfunction or potentially even many. You all have gone so far above and beyond what might have been previously expected of your positions to ensure that your clients receive the care they need.

We at Second Wind Fund want to take a moment and acknowledge all the work that you have done, and time that you have spent offering support and connection for clients who are navigating a changing world right before their eyes. We want to thank you for continuing to coordinate with us and spending some of that time to make sure that we have all of your contact information as up-to-date and accurate as possible to best support the youth in this program.

October brings us into a continued season of change, please find this month's resourcing below!

- Compassion Fatigue Certification Training: This free program is exactly what you need to regain purpose, fulfillment, and thrive in your profession—whether you're already experiencing the emotional burnout of Compassion Fatigue or want to make sure you avoid it, click here to learn more.

With Gratitude,
